Located in the middle of Chicago's "Magnificent Mile," distinguished for its celebrated heritage and long-established landmarks, is Landman Dental Associates—the reputable, all-inclusive practice of father-daughter team, Drs. Paul and Carole Landman.

Redefining the definition of a "family practice," the two doctors treat each patient as though they were working on a close family relative. "We want the full patient experience to be an enjoyable one," says Dr. Paul Landman, a founding member of both the American Society of Preventive Dentistry and the American Academy of Cosmetic Dentistry. Dr. Carole Landman agrees, "I like to make sure my patients are as comfortable and have as much knowledge as possible so they can make informed decisions about their treatment." Although the doctors have their own patients, they sometimes see each other's and consult on treatments. Both offer the full range of modern cosmetic dentistry, including full smile makeovers using computer imaging and laboratory mock-ups; porcelain veneers; ceramic crowns; Invisalign (invisible braces); and Zoom!™ Whitening. Additionally, both doctors offer lumineers, sleep apnea appliances and oral cancer screenings. When a referral is needed, they work with the top specialists in the area. Both father and daughter give back to the community by participating in charitable programs, like "Give Back a Smile" (restoring smiles for abused women) and Donated Dental Service, providing pro bono care for those unable to pay.

Dr. Carole Landman has been in practice for 20 years and is married to a dentist with a practice a few blocks away. "We met in undergrad in gross anatomy," she laughs. She is particularly loved by her patients for her gentle touch with anesthesia. "I use a very slow, comforting technique, and patients are really amazed at how painless it is," she says.

INSPIRED BEGINNINGS

When Dr. Paul Landman decided to go into cosmetic dentistry, he did so to help others, his daughter, now Dr. Carole Landman, in particular. In doing so, he began establishing the beginning foundations for his "FAMILY PRACTICE." "I was very interested in masking the horizontal stripes and discoloration of teeth affected by antibiotics. My daughter suffered such effects, and I took it upon myself to help her, realizing that if I could do so, I could perhaps help many others who faced similar situations." Dr. Landman therefore started with bleaching procedures, then early bonding and finally porcelain veneers, helping his daughter undergo a true smile makeover. "As depicted by her now BEAUTIFUL SMILE, I was able to positively contribute to her self-esteem. I gained tremendous insight and, as a result of her experience, my daughter was inspired to learn how to help people in the same fashion." More specifically, Dr. Carole Landman began practicing with her father in 1988. "It's amazing how my father helped transform my look and, subsequently, my confidence," she says. "Being able to help others in this manner is truly humbling and rewarding."
